

We are happy to announce that we are one of the few escort agencies that are fully GDPR compliant. Here at Bonds, we strive to keep the details of both our clients and our girls completely confidential, storing only what is necessary to the appointments that we create. Your data will never be sold or given to a third party except for in the unlikely event that it is legally required that we do so and only to ensure the safety and wellbeing of others.

By creating an appointment with any of the persons we represent on this site, you are agreeing to the terms of our privacy policy which are such that:

1. All information provided to us by a client/independent contractor is confidential and only divulged on a strictly need to know basis.
2. Any information about the client we deem necessary to share with our independent contractors is shared securely and only to those who have been made aware of and signed a form to show GDPR compliance.
3. Any information given to a client about the contractors we represent, we have express permission from each contractor to share.
4. Clients are also subject to privacy rules when creating their appointment with any chosen contractor. By making an appointment you are agreeing not to share any personal, or identifying, information about the contractor in question in a public or private manner, unless given express permission to do so, in writing, by the relevant party.
5. Bonds cannot be held responsible in the event that one of our independent contractors divulges information given to them in confidence by or about a client however we do reserve the right to cease representation in this event immediately and will always strive to act in the best interest of those affected.
6. Any client or independent contractor who may have information stored with Bonds may request to have that information removed or destroyed at any given point, if requested in writing, and may also request proof that this action has been carried out within a reasonable time frame.
7. Bonds Escort Agency, however, reserves the right to refuse to destroy any information they may hold about clients or independent contractors in the event that it is deemed legally necessary for the safety of others to retain or pass on the relevant information.
